

Tuff Rib

The PNW workhorse

Panel section. Proportions follow the panel; the drawing is not full size.

36"

Coverage

3/4"

Rib height

3:12

Minimum roof slope

Exposed

Fasteners

About Tuff Rib

Tuff Rib is among the most popular panel designs in the U.S. today. With an incredibly strong design and excellent resistance to harsh weather, it's a dependable choice for residential, commercial, and agricultural roofing and walls alike.

- / Our most economical, fastest-to-install panel
- / Proven on barns, shops, homes, and outbuildings

Specifications

Coverage width	36"
Rib height	3/4"
Rib spacing	9" on center
Gauges	29 ga
Lengths	Cut to length, 3' to 60', to the 1/8"
Substrates	Galvalume, painted, or print
Minimum slope	3:12
Fasteners	Exposed fastener system

Where it goes

-  Roofing
-  Walls and siding
-  Matching trim

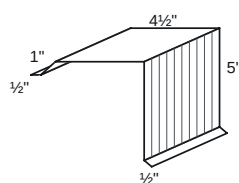

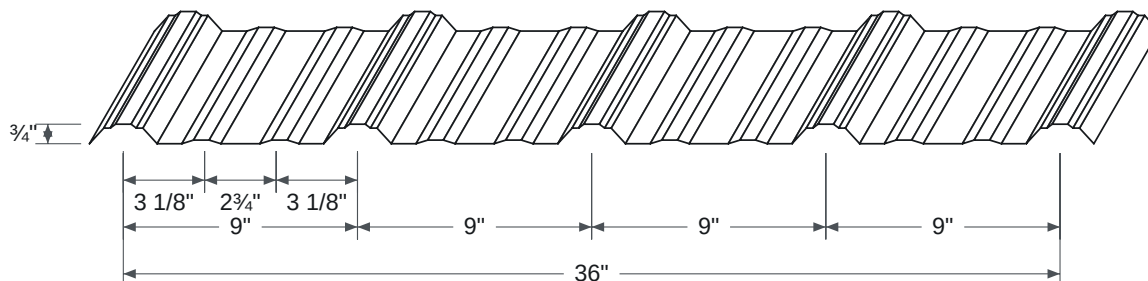

Before you order

Confirm the profile, gauge, color, lengths and fasteners with our team. Trim drawn for Tuff Rib is on the next page. Every piece is bent to your measurements.

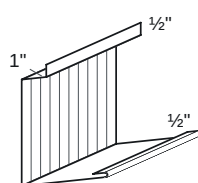

Monday – Friday: 7:00 AM – 5:00 PM. Saturday: By appointment. Sunday: Closed.

Trim for Tuff Rib

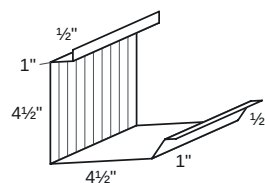

From Ridgeline's 3' Tuff-Rib Panel trim sheet, with the sizes we bend most often.

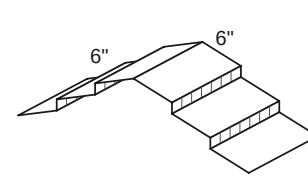

Gable end trim

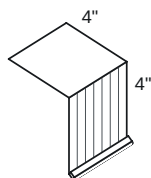

Door post cover

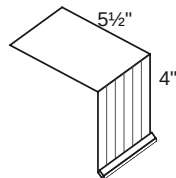

Outside corner cap

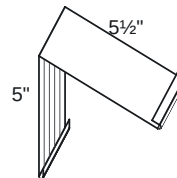

Ridge cap

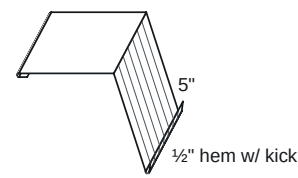

Eave trim

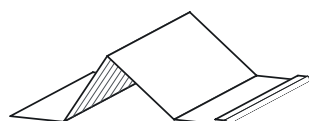

Return eave

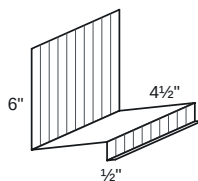

Reverse eave

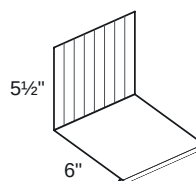

Swept wing gable end

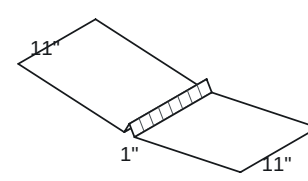

Snow stop

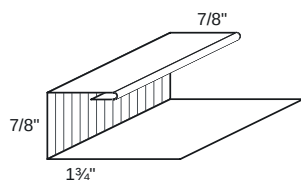

Sidewall

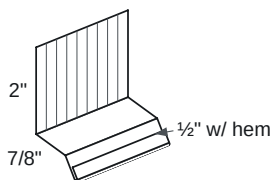

Endwall

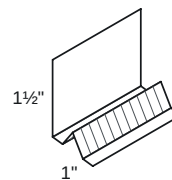

W-valley

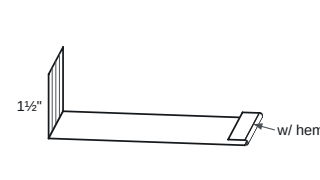

J-channel

Base trim

Header face

Jamb cover

Trim is not limited to these drawings and dimensions.

Drawings show the shape and the sizes we bend most often; they are not to scale.